The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Liu. Liu shows holes at 13,15.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Liu in view of Wang. Liu shows the claimed apparatus with the exception of the pair of locking hinges. Wang at 2 shows a pair of locking hinges. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Liu to comprise a pair of locking hinges, as taught by Wang, for locking his apparatus in a plurality of selected positions.

Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Liu in view of Hernandez et al. Liu shows the claimed apparatus with the exception of the fenders. Hernandez shows upwardly projecting fenders at 30,76,78. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Liu to comprise fenders, as taught by Hernandez, as a cover for his wheels.

Claims 9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Liu in view of Chen. Liu shows the claimed apparatus with the exception of the concave portion and head rest. Chen shows a concave portion at 24 and a head rest 23. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Liu to comprise a concave portion and head rest, as taught by Chen, to aid in the comfort of a user.
